

FOGGY WINDOW OR CATARACT?

One early symptom of a cataract is a blurring of the vision that makes everything appear as if you're looking through a foggy window or cloudy piece of glass. Left untreated, the outlook is dim. But if detected early, we can help you manage cataracts and explore treatment options such as new eyeglasses, magnification aids or Intraocular Lens (IOL) implants. The first step to early detection is a comprehensive eye examination in our office. Call and schedule an appointment today.
